CRITERIA AND STANDARDS FOR THE DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE FOOD SERVICE PROGRAM

E3.1.1. Military enlisted members are entitled to a ration for each day on active duty, except when they are entitled to a basic allowance for subsistence or per diem instead of subsistence. The BDFA for normal operating conditions shall be prescribed for enlisted members.

E3.1.1.1. A supplemental food allowance, not to exceed 15 percent of the BDFA, may be prescribed for any dining facility if either of the following conditions exists:

E3.1.1.1.1. The facility is feeding an average of less than 100 members per day.

E3.1.1.1.2. The facility is supporting an authorized complement of less than 150 members per day.

E3.1.1.2. The Military Services may prescribe the supplemental food allowance, provided:

E3.1.1.2.1. The dining facility is operating under conditions warranting the increase.

E3.1.1.2.2. The installation commander certifies that consolidation with other dining facilities is not practical.

E3.1.1.3. All requests for a supplemental food allowance that cannot be authorized within these conditions shall be submitted on an individual basis to the ASD(P&L) for approval.

E3.1.1.4. A special food allowance may be prescribed by the Military Services when it is required to support operational missions. Examples are flight feeding; field feeding (combat, maneuvers); submarine feeding; and space feeding.

E3.1.2. An additional allowance may be authorized for approved experimental food items that have potential military feeding applications.

E3.1.3. The Department of Defense Food Service Program shall contain, as a minimum, the following management features:

E3.1.3.1. Improved uniform application of food service training and career incentives.

E3.1.3.2. Modern, standardized and automated management methods developed in accordance with DoD Directives 5000.11 and 7920.1 (references (f) and (g)), encompassing:

E3.1.3.2.1. Menu standards and a recipe service.

E3.1.3.2.2. Food acceptability determination.

E3.1.3.2.3. Requisitioning and inventory control.

E3.1.3.5. A uniform food allowance that will permit management flexibility in the Department of Defense Food Service Program. Accounting and reporting for food allowance shall include positive, auditable head count criteria that shall identify entitlement classification of persons fed (such as, in-kind, common-service, cash, payroll deduction).

E3.1.3.6. Operational direction to ensure preparation and serving of foods are consistent with contemporary standards of good quality commercial food service.

E3.1.4. Food service operating and management personnel at all levels shall continually strive to attain the highest quality food service both efficiently and effectively by application of the latest food service management techniques. The following basic standards are established to assist in this effort:

E3.1.4.1. Personnel authorized to subsist in appropriated funded facilities shall be provided meals that are based on menus supported by prescribed DoD recipes. Meals shall be adequate nutritionally and, to the extent possible, reflect the consumers' food preferences within cost and availability constraints.

E3.1.4.2. Meals sold to authorized personnel shall be at rates sufficient to provide reimbursement of operating costs and food costs to the appropriations concerned, as required by the general provisions of the DoD Appropriation Act (reference (h)).

E3.1.4.3. Cafeteria-style feeding, using salad bars, bulk beverage dispensers, a la carte menus, and optional short order meals for those not desiring regular meals shall be used wherever practical. The preferred dinnerware is either plate service or compartmented trays, whichever is more practical under local conditions.

Food Service management systems shall be detailed and controlled sufficiently to provide standard, accurate, and timely common data throughout the Department of Defense and comparable management presentations on the results of food service operations for use in planning, programming, and budgeting for food services.

E3.1.5. DoD 1338.10-M (reference (d)) shall contain supplemental policies and uniform procedures for application by all DoD Components. The Manual shall not be reproduced at the individual DoD Component level; however, it may be supplemented to incorporate provisions that are unique to an individual DoD Component.
